Argentinian Dove Shoot for Four

This is the top choice for hot-barreled action for high-volume dove hunting in Argentina. Most people shoot anywhere from 1,000 to 2,000 rounds or more a day. We are famed for our “white glove” service, and nobody sets a better table or pours a better bottle of wine. Most operators will house you in good accommodations, but El Palomar “Under the doves” and Las Vertientes (La Aguada renamed) located in the heart of the Cordoba Valley are a cut above all the rest! You will experience their famous “White Glove” service and amazing attention to detail during your stay. Each meal, whether in the Estancia or in the field, is a feast for the eyes and the tummy. Delicious food and wine presentations will be remembered along with the fantastic shooting. Not included: Ammunition, license, gun rental, gratuities, and airfares. Hunt must be taken by 3/25/2018. Add on additional hunters or hunting and travel experiences available for an additional charge.
